

Sitting down to write our newsletter, this month, our effort to stay in touch with you, I've just finished viewing the bombings at the Boston Marathon. I am sure much will come out about this in the coming days. But, for now, this causes my agenda in writing, to change. Like many of you, I watched the footage of the bomb going off, and people running everywhere. One of the things I noticed, was the differing directions that people began running. Some ran towards the bombing. Many ran away. It caused me to think of what goes through a person's mind in such a situation. Panic? Terror? Help? Need? I'd like to think that I'd be a person who would run towards those in need. I'm honestly not sure. None of us know how we might react in such a situation. I am thankful for those who willingly run towards the chaos, trying to help those in need. They are the ones saving lives. So maybe it's just a good time to check in with ourselves, and ask: what would I do?

The same question can probably be asked, not just for this type of dire emergency, but just for our every day life. The question becomes: what can I do to help....anyone, anywhere, anything? Help with your money, your time, your love. Do what matters. Forget the unimportant things. Life is mundane, and has an endless series of tasks which we all need to address. But, not at the expense of the important and the eternal things. Be sure you are doing acts that count for the Kingdom of GOD. Prayer, giving, going, helping. Whatever it is, don't wait. Do it now. "Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we shall reap if we do not grow weary" Gal. 6:9

HEALTH ISSUES:

We continue to be confronted with some pretty intense health issues. Both Wayne & I have been diagnosed with auto-immune disorders, although differing problems. It's kinda crazy, to tell you the truth! We are working to get things straightened out (i.e. doctors visits, multiple blood work and Rx meds), but we sure could use your prayers to cover the situation. Would you mind just giving us a push up the hill? Thank you so much!!

WORSHIP AND PRAYER:

We continue to work towards growing the worship & prayer side of VOB. We really believe in this ministry, as it supports, spiritually, the work going on, physically!
